Mohegan park is a popular place these nights and its inviting retreats are found more acceptable than ever.

Lucius Briggs and Robert Johnson of Norwich were among those recently registered at the Misquamicut Golf club, Watch Hill.

Rev. Rennetts C. Miller of the International Reform bureau, is again in this part of the state. On Sunday he lectured at Old Saybrook.

The naval militia of the state are enjoying life on the ocean wave, the men being on their annual cruise on the battleship Louisiana this week.

Sunday was another big day with the Poles, the 50th anniversary of the battle of Tannenberg, in which the Teutonic Knights were defeated by Poles and Lithuanians.

Those who relish that old Indian dish, succotash, are hoping that the necessary ingredients will soon ripen, writes a correspondent. They will not have long to wait.

Where trees are sprayed with arsenate of lead, owners of gardens should look out for possible injury from the poison that may strike their vegetables and small fruits.

The Norwich Epworth league will hold its annual convention at the Willimantic camp grounds on the last day of the Epworth league institute which opens August 15 and ends on the 19th.

People in the southern part of the county, as the anniversary approaches, are beginning to read up on the bombardment of Stonington, August 9 to 12, 96 years ago.

For the Willimantic camp meeting, which opens August 12 and continues until August 28, Rev. Harry Taylor has been re-engaged as evangelist. John W. Reynolds will lead the singing.

The excursion from Stafford Springs to New London and from there by boat to Watch Hill and Block Island, was not as largely attended as usual Saturday, because of the Central Vermont strike.

Last week was a busy one at The Griswold, Eastern Point, and the big hotel was filled with week-end guests. August will see a number of interesting golf tournaments on the Shennecossett links.

The field day of the Fraternal Benevolent league at Lighthouse Point on Saturday will commemorate the organization's tenth anniversary, and this fact has been considered in planning for the occasion.

Crabs are reported plenty in this vicinity lately and several large catches have been made. The season seems to be backward on this variety of sea food, however, and the crabs are rather underzested.

Small hotels and boarding houses in the Pequod and Ocean beach sections are as full with vacationists as they can be. Many of the hostesses have more applications for rooms for August than they can accommodate.

The temperance societies of the state are electing delegates to the state Catholic Total Abstinence union convention at Hartford on August 29 and 30, and also to the national convention at Boston on August 3, 10, 11 and 12.

At old Fort Griswold, Groton, the sailport has been repaired and now the magazine which is still there, but covered up with dirt, is to be opened up again. The state commission plans to beautify the fort and other improvements will follow.

The 43th session of the Methodist camp meeting at Plainville begins Friday, August 5, and closes Monday, August 15. The Connecticut Chautauqua assembly began on these grounds Monday and will close August 3. Grand Army day will be observed on August 4.

From all points along the New Haven road's various lines come protests at the raise in rates that became effective Saturday. These seem no doubt that the road will get back all it pays the trainmen in increased wages, and have a liberal balance left over.

Members of Company E, Second Connecticut volunteers, now numbering about 12, the first men to leave New London for the front in the civil war, are discussing a proposed celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of their departure on April 22, 1911.

ORGANIZATION OF WATER BOARD

J. T. Ryan Made President, J. J. Corkery Superintendent, C. S. Raymond Clerk and Cashier and W. P. Ryan Inspector—Strict Party Vote.

The board of water commissioners, as at present made up, including the new members named by the court of common council last month, held its first meeting on Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the water department office.

JOHN T. RYAN.

Corey for inspector, they being the incumbents of the offices.

It is possible some of the newly-named officials will take up their duties as soon as they are sworn in and furnish their bond, although the change may not take place until the first of August. It is probable that change in the cashier will not be made until then any way, and possibly not the others.

Those who will go out of office by this organization have made an excellent record in their respective places and their work will stand to their credit. There is now considerable work under way in the department. At the reservoir the installation of the Venturi meters by which the measurement of all the water drawn from the reservoir can be made is nearly done.

Supt. Burnap states that both of the tubes are in place, and the registers are here and the house for them built with the exception of the concrete floor which, it is hoped, will be completed this week. The tubes are working satisfactorily and he thinks there is being delivered more water than formerly. One tube has been tested to find out how it works and it was determined that one tube carried 2,300,000 gallons a day, but what the other will show has not been determined. These two sixteen-inch meters are connected with the sixteen-inch mains, and the brick house for the registers is 11x7.5. By the meters it will be possible to show the variation in the use of water and when there is an increased consumption of it they are located just below the dam at Fairview reservoir.

The department is placing a new main in Pond street from Franklin to the dam and in Lake street. It is a four-inch pipe, replacing an inch and a quarter pipe which has become filled up. In Pleasant street, off Oakridge, the work started there has been completed as has the job of changing the four-inch main in Mechanic street to an eight-inch main. This gives a much greater pressure and three new six-inch hydrants have been placed in the street. The change was made to give better protection to the silk mill in Mechanic street, where there would have been a serious handicap had there been a fire in the mill with the former supply of water.

Regarding the road to Fairview reservoir, Superintendent Burnap states that it is in the same excellent condition that it has been right along. As for the road inside the fence and around the reservoir, it is not a public highway, but maintained for the convenience of the department, and the public is not supposed to use it. That way is in the same condition it has been in back along.

JOHN J. CORKERY.
lines, these being elected by a vote of three to two: Superintendent John J. Corkery; clerk and cashier, Gilbert S. Raymond, inspector, William P. Ryan. The republican members of the board presented the names of E. L. Burnap for superintendent, W. W. Ives for cashier and clerk and J. Frank

Y. M. C. A. BOYS BREAK CAMP TODAY.
General Secretary Morse Finds They Have Had Remarkably Fine and Comfortable Time.

The Y. M. C. A. boys who have been in camp at Bushy Point for the last two weeks are to break camp today and return to the city after a delightful outing. Secretary W. A. Morse visited the camp on Monday finding that in all the hot weather the boys had been remarkably comfortable and enjoyed a cooling breeze at all times of the day and night.

Mr. Morse goes down to New London this afternoon to meet the boys who will be brought over from camp in a launch by Assistant Secretary George F. Hyde. Mr. Hyde will then return to camp to remain for the rest of the week getting things packed up, while Mr. Morse will bring the boys home by train.

88TH BIRTHDAY.
Captain Ives of New Haven Has Many Acquaintances Here.

Walter W. Ives, better known as Captain Ives, celebrated his 88th birthday at his home on Wall street on July 22, says the New Haven Register. The genial old man enjoyed very much the card shower given him by his friends. He had 200 sent him from all over the United States. He also was presented with an original birthday poem, illustrated on parchment paper, and gifts of flowers, fruit, confectionery, money and birthday cakes. Mr. Ives is very active for his years and seldom fails to make a round of calls among his friends, who manifest much anxiety if he does not appear on schedule time. He seems to be called old and always keeps well posted on current events.

Captain Ives has many acquaintances in Norwich where he has often visited his son William W. Ives, on Champlain street.

American Boy Scouts.
American Boy Scouts is the name of a society organized a few weeks ago in this city which has been very successful under the leadership of Mr. Ives. It is composed of a patrol of ten members who will be drilled to perfection. On certain days the company will parade and next summer will go camping.

To carry out the expenses of suits, uniforms, and other entertainments will be given, the general management of the Scouts' finances being under George Kaplan of No. 268 Main street.

Guests of Postmaster McGinley.
In addition to the state convention of the Eagles and the state meeting of the Elfers and Drummers' association, there will probably be another state gathering at New London this summer. It is expected that the Connecticut Postmasters' association will meet there for its summer outing. The postmasters will be guests of Postmaster McGinley. Ocean Beach will be the scene of their outing. The usual shore dinner will be the feature. The postmasters have been there before and are delighted with New London as a summer resort.

Corey for inspector, they being the incumbents of the offices.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY OF THEIR WEDDING.
Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Therrien Have Celebrated Many Gifts.

Their silver wedding anniversary was joyously celebrated on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Therrien at their home, No. 257 Main street, where they celebrated the 25th anniversary of their married life. About forty of their friends were included in a dinner party at which heartiest congratulations were tendered. The celebration was extended, and among those present were friends from Providence, Plainfield, N. H., Taftville, Willimantic and Boston, besides those from Norwich.

Appropriate and valuable gifts were made in honor of the anniversary, which by a strange coincidence numbered just twenty-five. During the afternoon and evening a number of friends called to offer their congratulations. Before the marriage Mrs. Therrien was Miss Emma Marcell of Taftville, and Mr. Therrien was also of the same village, where they were married July 22, 1885. They have resided in Taftville and Norwich, where Mr. Therrien is a successful and popular proprietor of a barber shop.

The silver wedding gifts and the donors were the following: Silver mesh bag, Mr. and Mrs. George Tifford, C. J. Reagan and Mrs. N. Shurtliff; silver butter dish, Mr. and Mrs. Royal of Providence; silver topped salt shakers, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Norman; silver backed military brushes, Miss Eva Benoit; Miss Kate Sullivan and Mrs. S. S. Shee; silver teapot, Mr. and Mrs. C. Ellinger; silver butter knives, Mrs. Charles Conely; silver berry spoon, Mr. and Mrs. John Lavalle; silver tomato server, Mrs. Kate Magnolia; silver ladle, Miss Anna Welch; silver pie knife, Mrs. H. Allard; silver candelabra, Mrs. Pipin of Providence; silver ladle, Mr. and Mrs. James Coyne; silver bread tray, Mrs. Eveline Lindberg; silver picture frame, Mr. Friend; silver hair receiver, Mr. and Mrs. John Marcell; silver thimble, Mrs. Bruette; silver bread tray, Mr. and Mrs. Yeano of Plymouth, Mass.; silver comb and brush set, W. B. Doyle of New York; silver butter knife and spoon, William Gurney; silver meat fork, Mrs. Mary Reeves; jewel case, Mrs. Perin of Providence; silver cream ladle, Mrs. R. Norman; pipe and basket, Mr. and Mrs. Parson of Taftville; bouquet, John R. Robinson.

MONTVILLE MATTER ARGUED.
Jury Again Visited the Property and Will Meet Next Week to Decide the Matter.

On Monday there was a session of the sheriff's jury for the consideration of the case of the Alpha Mills company vs. the town of Montville. The arguments were made by Attorneys Comstock and Perkins, after which the jury decided to visit the property again. This they did, and the local members returned at 5 o'clock. They adjourned to meet again next Monday at 10 a. m., when it is probable they will decide the matter.

OBITUARY.

Charles Fargo.
Charles Fargo, of 60 years a well known and respected resident of the town of Colchester, passed away Sunday night about 9 o'clock at his home about three miles south of the village. For several years Mr. Fargo had been in failing health and the termination of his long and useful life was not unexpected. Nevertheless, his death brings sorrow to a wide circle of relatives and friends.

Eighty-three years ago Charles Fargo was born in Montville, the son of Alvin and Mary Fargo, with the exception of his boyhood Mr. Fargo passed the whole of his life in Colchester, following the occupation of farmer. Because of his health he sold his farm in 1900, and has since lived quietly in the home where he died.

In Norwich 54 years ago, Mr. Fargo married Miss Elizabeth Brown, who survives her husband. They have no children. He leaves also one brother, Albert Fargo of Salem and four sisters, Mrs. Charles A. Gazer, Sr., and Mrs. Jane Burgess of Norwich, Mrs. Maria Fillmore of Montville and Mrs. Ellen Hatchcock of Moodus.

Mr. Fargo possessed the integrity and honest, upright character of the old New England farmer, and though a member of no church his principles were Christian. He was a man of noble spirit and has filled with ability town offices. The funeral will be held today.

Sarah A. Palmer.
Sarah A. Palmer, widow of Isaac L. Palmer, formerly of Scotland, this state, died at the home of her niece, Mrs. Joseph A. Miller of No. 129 West street, East Hartford, Sunday evening, after a long illness, aged 89 years. Death was due to old age. She is survived by one brother, William Bancroft of Hartford. The body will be taken to Scotland Wednesday for interment.

Henry A. Herbert.
Monday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock the death of Henry A. Herbert occurred at the Backus hospital at the age of 60. He had been at the institution for two weeks and death resulted from dropsy.

The deceased came here from Worcester when the Forehand Arms company consolidated with the Hopkins & Allen Arms Co. He was a butcher by trade. Later he left that factory and was driver for A. S. Spaulding & Co. for several years until the business was taken over by C. H. Haskell, since which he has worked for him until sickness prevented. He was well acquainted with the streets of the city and was a faithful employee. He leaves a brother and a nephew, J. A. Herbert, who is an undertaker in Fall River.

Preston Bridge Affair.
At five minutes to 1 Monday afternoon Chemical Co. No. 1 was called to Preston bridge, which was found to be afire. Several of the blanks were taken up and some chemical used to put out the small blaze. It is thought it may have started from a cigar stump thrown there.
